Claim for annulment of the AMF's conformity decision regarding Icade's public offer for Silic – Paris Appeal Court sets date for ruling

Silic has announced that at a hearing held on 21 March 2013, the Paris Appeal Court set a date of 20 June 2013 for its ruling on the two claims made by SMAVie BTP and the Association pour la Défense des Actionnaires Minoritaires (French small shareholders' association) for annulment of the conformity decision issued by the Autorité des Marchés Financiers on 24 April 2012 regarding Icade's public offer for Silic.

In accordance with the Autorité des Marchés Financiers' decision to extend the offer until 4 July 2012, Icade's public offer for Silic remains open until further notice.

About Silic:

About Silic...

Founded nearly forty years ago, Silic is a major European player in commercial property with a portfolio of over 1,224,000 m<sup>2</sup> of office and multi-purpose space valued at €3.6 billion at 31 December 2012. Most of its portfolio is concentrated in four core business areas of the Paris Region – Nanterre-La Défense, Orly-Rungis, Roissy-Paris Nord 2 and Saint Denis. Office space accounts for 81% of the total value and is concentrated in the core areas of Greater Paris.

Silic business parks provide all the amenities and facilities required to meet the everyday needs of tenant companies and to support them in their development, including a broad range of services (foodservice, childcare facilities, security, caretaking, car pooling, etc.), easy access, buildings equipped to international standards, flexibility and high environmental quality. All of Silic's new buildings are built to HQE or BREEAM environmental quality standards and THPE or BBC high energy efficiency standards. Silic's business parks are ISO 14001 and 9001 certified.
