Turnover in retail trade contracted slightly in July

Total manufactured goods and food sales: M/M-1 change (%)

Notes: n=on-month change; seasonally and working-day adjusted volume terms

Not from month-to-month change; seasonally and working-day adjusted volume terms. Telephone and mail orders are included in total household consumption; the latter includes other items such as health care, education and rent. Items such as health care, education and rent are included in the total aggregate of retail trade (weights are given on the right scale). F.pdf

The seasonally and bi-monthly series are seasonally adjusted on an individual basis: the seasonally adjusted turnover in retail trade fell slightly by 0.3% compared with June (adjusted for seasonal and working day variations). This change was mainly due to a 1.9% drop in sales of manufactured goods compared with June, particularly driven by the footwear (down 18.1%), textiles and clothing (down 6.9%) and sports equipment (down 5.4%) sectors. By contrast, sales of i) games and toys and ii) perfumes and hygiene products were buoyant with gains of 12.2% and 10.4%, respectively. Sales of food products also declined in July (down 0.2%) but to a far lesser extent than sales of manufactured goods.

Quarter-on-quarter, the 1.5% decrease in overall sales was driven by a 3.0% fall in sales of manufactured goods, while the contraction in food sales was more modest at 0.8%.
